About Tim

Tim Deithloff's principal area of practice is public finance law, serving as bond counsel, underwriter's counsel, disclosure counsel, borrower's counsel and bank counsel. He has served as bond counsel and disclosure counsel for state agencies, institutions of higher education (public and private), regional mobility authorities, cities, counties, school districts, special districts and local government corporations. Tim also represents both national and regional investment banking firms as underwriter's counsel and placement agent counsel in traditional and other types of exempt offerings.

With more than 20 years of experience in the public finance arena, Tim has gained a wide range of experience in all types of public securities transactions, with a focus on state agency, transportation and higher education finance matters. Tim also assists governmental entities in matters involving the investment of public funds, state legislation, their responsibilities under federal securities laws, continuing disclosure compliance, derivative transactions and other public law matters. He has represented underwriters and placement agents in bond transactions throughout the State of Texas, as well as Oklahoma, Iowa, Kansas, Tennessee, North Dakota and South Dakota.
