Election 2014: Explaining the “Wave”

November 7, 2014

By: Scott H. Segal

Scott Segal, founding partner of the Policy Resolution Group and long recognized as a top lobbyist in Washington, D.C., gives an insightful analysis of the results of the 2014 midterm elections. Scott delves into a number of key issues, including why the Republican message is suddenly playing well in traditional Blue states and what made this midterm so “nationalized” in nature.
