

INSIGHTS

Election 2014: Closing Thoughts from a Former Senator

November 7, 2014

Former U.S. Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison, now a Senior Counsel at Bracewell, offers her views on the 2014 election results. She discusses how the Senate may change under the new Majority Leader and prospects for the President and leaders of Congress to find common ground on issues such as energy, environmental issues, taxes, and healthcare.