

Caitlin Sickles Elected President of Calvary Women's Services' Board of Directors

News Release

October 01, 2024 | 1 minute read

WASHINGTON, DC – Caitlin Sickles, a senior principal in Bracewell's Policy Resolution Group, has been elected president of Calvary Women's Services' Board of Directors. Sickles previously served as vice president since 2022 and on Calvary's Development Committee since 2019.

Calvary Women's Services has offered housing, health, education, and employment programs to women experiencing homelessness in Washington, DC since 1983. Over 70 percent of women who complete the organization's programs successfully move into their own homes. Calvary's programs serve women in all circumstances including women who are survivors of violence and trauma, are living with mental illness, and/or are in recovery from substance abuse.

Related People

Caitlin Sickles
Senior Principal
WASHINGTON, DC
+1.202.828.7637
caitlin.sickles@bracewell.com

Related Practices

Government Relations