

Concluding the Internal Investigation

Event

May 08, 2025 | 1 minute read

Nicole Boeckmann will be a featured speaker at the Internal Investigations 2025 conference, which explores the key stages of conducting effective and efficient investigations. Using a real-world hypothetical and animated video, the program will provide practical insights into managing investigations from start to finish.

Nicole will share best practices on:

- Reaching findings
- Addressing employment decisions
- Selecting corrective actions and remediation
- Documenting conclusions
- Deciding whether to prepare a written report
- Determining report content (factual vs. legal conclusions)
- Managing report distribution and third-party requests
- Evaluating whether and how to self-report

Attendees will gain actionable guidance for navigating ethical dilemmas, whistleblower claims, and cost considerations throughout the investigative process.
