

How an Oil Executive Got Picked to Lead the DOE Renewables Office

Media Mentions

March 17, 2025 | E&E News | 1 minute read | Washington, DC

---

With questions surrounding President Donald Trump's selection of fossil fuels veteran Audrey Robertson to lead the Department of Energy's Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy, Bracewell's Frank Maisano told E&E News that he expects EERE will continue to operate.

"There's no doubt that this administration has a different outlook on EERE than the previous administration," said Maisano. "But I do think they're going to find value in EERE and molding it to the administration's [energy] dominance agenda."

Related People

Frank V. Maisano
Senior Principal
WASHINGTON, DC
+1.202.828.5864
frank.maisano@bracewell.com

Related Industries

Energy

Related Practices

Government Relations
Strategic Communications