

The 311 on 103: When to Call A Tax Lawyer About Your Tax-Exempt Bonds

Event

July 30, 2024 | 1 minute read

When dealing with tax-exempt bonds, what do changes in planned use of proceeds, offers from private businesses to collaborate, and audit notices from the Internal Revenue Service have in common? These are all excellent reasons to call your “Section 103” tax lawyer for guidance. In this hour-long discussion, speakers will discuss common scenarios where consultation with your tax lawyer is better done sooner rather than later.
