

The Times Ranks Bracewell Among Top 20 UK Energy and Renewables Law Firms

Awards & Rankings

November 03, 2022 | 1 minute read | London

LONDON – The Times recognized Bracewell (UK) LLP as one of the top 20 firms in the UK for energy and renewables work in its Best Law Firms 2023 list. The Times noted Bracewell’s “unique position as the only London office of an international law firm exclusively dedicated to the energy sector, where it is at the forefront of developments in renewable energy and sustainability.”

Each year, The Times identifies the top 200 law firms in England & Wales and 40 in Scotland based on peer responses to a single question: Who would you recommend if you weren’t recommending your own firm? More than 4,400 individuals took part in this year’s survey, which ranked firms across 28 categories.
