Partner Josh Zive moderated ACORE's State of the Industry Webinar: Strengthening Global Competitiveness in a New Administration on Wednesday, February 3, 2021 from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. EST.

The State of the Industry Webinar was a quarterly series produced in partnership between ACORE and BloombergNEF, offering the latest intelligence and analysis on the renewable energy sector.

How can the Biden Administration strengthen U.S. positioning in the global renewable economy? Experts reviewed the challenges and opportunities the country faces while reestablishing our climate leadership and bolstering bilateral relationships. Topics addressed on this webinar included:

- Options to promote domestic renewable manufacturing as opposed to barring imports.
- Next steps for Trump-era policies including the solar, steel/aluminum and battery tariffs and the Bulk Power Executive Order
- Securing the U.S. power grid to confront the risk of cyberattacks
