

Alexandria Moriarty

Associate

alexandria.moriarty@bracewell.com

NEW YORK

+1.212.938.6455

Alexandria Moriarty focuses her practice on intellectual property litigation, focusing on patent infringement matters and technology litigation.

Alexandria previously served as a law fellow at Los Angeles Waterkeeper, where she was the primary author of a California trial court brief in a successful writ action challenging the timing of submittal of biennial water quality reports under the Porter-Cologne Water Quality Act.

Industries

Technology

Practices

Intellectual Property

Patents

Litigation

Intellectual Property Litigation

Credentials

Education

- The University of California at Los Angeles School of Law, J.D., 2021
- Carnegie Mellon University, B.S., 2017

Bar Admissions

- New York

The University of California, Los Angeles School of Law

- Women's Law Journal, Chief Managing Editor

Resources

The Irony – Using Generative AI in a Case About the Dangers of Generative AI

Article

Publications & Speeches

- "The Irony – Using Generative AI in a Case About the Dangers of Generative AI," Westlaw Today, Thomson Reuters, January 30, 2025.