Chambers USA and Legal 500 US-ranked Dee Martin is co-chair of the firm's Policy Resolution Group (PRG), the government relations and strategic communications section of Bracewell. Under Dee's leadership, PRG is a nationally ranked Chambers USA Government Relations practice and has also been recognized by Bloomberg Government as a Top Performing Lobbying/Law Firm.

Dee has more than 20 years of experience providing strategic advice to corporations, non-profit organizations and trade associations. Her work covers the areas of energy, environment, national security and supply chain stability.

For her work, Dee was honored by Hydrogen Economist on its "Women in Hydrogen 50" list (2024); recognized by Washingtonian Magazine as one of the most influential people in Washington, DC (2024-2025); as a Top Lobbyist by The Hill (2017-2024); as one of the "Top 10 Innovative Legal Practitioners" in the 2023 Financial Times Innovative Lawyers North America Report; and as a "Top Lobbyist" by the National Institute for Lobbying & Ethics (2022-2024). Dee has also been named a "Washington, DC Trailblazer" and "Crisis Leadership Trailblazer" by The National Law Journal (2020-2021); a "Champion of PR" by PRWeek (2017); a "Top 40 Under 40 Lobbyist" by Washingtonian Magazine (2011); a "Female Powerbroker" by Law360 (2014); a "Champion" by the Legal Times (2011); and a "Women Who Means Business Awardee" by the Washington Business Journal (2011).

To provide a platform for women who shape policy and create history, Dee created and currently hosts the Madam Policy podcast, where she interviews high-level federal officials, corporate leaders and advocates. Madam Policy has been recognized as a "Top Ten Podcast Elevating the Voices of Women in Politics," by The Ascend Fund. Dee has also received national media attention
