Sylvia Brown is a paralegal in Bracewell's public finance group. She supports the firm's lawyers in representing municipalities, school districts, water districts, county and state agencies and housing authorities with bond financing issues.

Sylvia assists with the preparation of debt obligation documents and transcripts for review and approval by the Office of the Texas Attorney General and the Texas Bond Review Board. She also helps the lawyers' public entity clients with planning, preparation of documents and administration of bond elections in compliance with state and federal law.
