Election 2014: Geopolitics and LNG Exports

November 7, 2014

By: Scott H. Segal

Eric Washburn*, partner in the Policy Resolution Group, discusses the prospects for increased LNG exports with founding partner Scott Segal. He analyzes several factors that may contribute to a bipartisan push in the new Congress for legislation to allow increased LNG exports. These factors include the expansion of natural gas exploration and development in the United States, the conflict in Ukraine, and European desire to diversify its energy supply.
