

“Buckle Up!”: Kristi Rogers, P2P Co-Founder & Managing Partner, on Life as a Leader & National Security Expert

Podcast | Madam Policy

December 13, 2022 | 1 minute read

When Kristi Rogers sees a problem, she feels compelled to find a solution. Kristi does it all: not only is she the Managing Partner and Co-Founder of Principal to Principal, but also she is a leading risk management expert functioning at the intersection of geopolitical stability, corporate leadership, and crisis communications. This serial and successful start-up CEO has over 25-years of experience accumulated through her service in senior roles in the federal government and leadership on the boards of publicly-traded companies.

This week, Kristi chats with hosts Dee Martin and Executive Director of the FBI Agents Association, friend of Madam Policy, and previous guest Jean O'Connor, about the importance of learning from life's work. Hear about Kristi's time in Iraq serving as federal official, the founding of her successful companies, and leading conversations with women leaders in Ukraine and Iran. Want to know more about the solutions for global supply chain disruptions? Semiconductors? The threat China poses? Cybersecurity risks? Tune into this episode because Kristi has thoughts on—and policy solutions for—all of them!

Also, you don't want to miss the advice she would give her 24-year old self and what fascinating books are on her nightstand!
