

Maryam Brown, the Triple Threat: Policy Trailblazer, Clean Energy Visionary and Focused Leader

Podcast | Madam Policy

December 14, 2021 | 1 minute read

Southern California Gas Company (SoCalGas) delivers affordable, reliable, and clean natural gas service to nearly 22 million customers, making it the nation's largest natural gas utility. Leading the way, is Maryam Brown, President of SoCalGas. Maryam joined hosts Dee Martin and Christine Wyman to discuss SoCalGas' role in the energy transition, including the Company's recently-released study, The Role of Clean Fuels and Gas Infrastructure in Achieving California's Net-Zero Climate Goal. Maryam also discusses the importance of leading with intention; creating pathways to employment in the gas industry through internships; and why she believes that hard work always prevails. Also, Maryam shares some lessons from the kitchen including how cooking has helped to strengthen her relationships with some important women in her life. This is an episode that you don't want to miss!
