We welcome an old friend and a new co-host to the podcast this week! Former Bracewell colleague John Lee, now Chief of Staff to Rep. Nikki Budzinski (D-IL), joins the team to discuss his path from Bracewell/PRG to leading a congressional staff, what it's like to be lobbied now that he sits on the other side of the table (including the dos and don'ts), and his advice to young professionals moving from the private sector to Capitol Hill. John also provides an insider's view of recent dramatic votes in the House. The episode also marks the debut of a new Lobby Shop co-host, PRG Principal Dylan Pasiuk. Welcome Dylan!
